About me

I am a proactive person wishful to develop professionally. I have been in positions of responsibility for many years and have experience in working under pressure. I have a profile marked by resolution capacity and creativity.
In 2019, I discovered my passion for Software Development and it has become my life project, constantly improving my knowledge in FullStack development (JS ES6, Node.js, React.js, CSS3, JSX) with intensive on-site courses, online courses and developing personal projects. My greatest desire is to get my first IT job to meet new challenges and be part of a Development Team.
